Lindsay Freeman

By Carolyn Taylor

Seeking to live in a warmer climate, Lindsay and husband Isaac jumped at the chance to move to Florida when Lindsay was offered a job as a financial advisor at Edward Jones in Lake Mary. With their terrier-mix “child” Rory in tow, they relocated here in January of 2011, leaving behind their family, friends and Chippewa Falls, their Wisconsin hometown of 13,000. Southern California and Raleigh were considered, but Lake Mary had a hometown feel and won out.

Carrying on what has become somewhat of a family tradition, she and Isaac were married at her grandmother’s home, just as her parents had. They celebrated their 7th anniversary in August.

Lindsay and Isaac love it here, defend our hot summers to their family, and visit home for a “white Christmas.” So far, the weather has snubbed them – it hasn’t snowed there at Christmas since they left!

Lindsay grew up playing violin and was a fast pitch softball pitcher in high school. Reflecting fondly of watching her artist father paint in the basement corner he set up for himself, scrapbooking is her medium for artistic expression. She and Isaac both play golf (handicaps 20 and 10, respectively). Her bucket list includes attending the 4 golf majors and the Ryder Cup Tournament. She can hold her own in a conversation about sports – much to the surprise of many, as she is an avid college and NFL football fan as well as college basketball fan. She enjoys cooking when time allows and since traveling abroad to Prague, Paris and Italy, she dreams of traveling to Hawaii, Australia, the Amalfi Coast as well as other places she hasn’t already seen.

Lindsay graduated from UW with a degree in business management, and works to help people with conservative, high-return investing and retirement planning, while Isaac is an internet marketer. There’s no doubt Lindsay adds a cheerful and positive presence at work, as she has in our club. She is a Lake Mary Rotary member, and as Chairperson for the Lake Mary Council at the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, she met Ellen Yeaser and Madelyn Faillaci who shared with her the many great things the club does within our community. Always looking for ways to get involved with local charities and give back to the community, the HWC seemed like a great fit! Since joining the club, she has become active in the Ways and Means committee and is working to help grow our club’s business partnerships within the community. Needless to say - she’s not just a pretty face, but one of those gals that jumps right into taking a meaningful role in the organizations she involves herself in. We are so happy to have found her!
